Performance Review

Global markets started off 2026 largely extending the momentum we saw through most of last year. This abruptly reversed in March as military actions in Iran and the closure of the Strait of Hormuz caused the price of oil (amongst other commodities) to spike well above $100/bbl. Our GIVEI strategy performed very well through this drawdown, nicely outperforming both the ACWI and ACWI Value indices in a quarter that was marked by elevated volatility. Dividend Yield was one of the best performing factors in the first quarter which clearly assisted performance for our income oriented strategy.

The ongoing conflict in Iran is obviously a wild card that's difficult to assess given the vastly different potential end games. Rather than attempt to predict when/what the conclusion to this Middle Eastern conflict looks like, it more useful to understand the state of the economy going into a geopolitical conflict or energy shock. Generally speaking, economic momentum was building (e.g. Global Manufacturing PMI and GDP estimates were both rising), earnings growth was reaccelerating (e.g. earnings estimates for 2026 remain largely unscathed) and inflationary pressure was easing. The fiscal policy backdrop also remains very supportive in most regions as spending is increasingly directed to infrastructure and security. Together, these dynamics suggest that there may be a lot more resiliency in the global economy to withstand temporary pressures from higher energy/food/commodity prices. "Temporary" is an important distinction as further damage to energy infrastructure in the Middle East or a more prolonged closure of the Strait of Hormuz (or Bab al-Mandab in the Red Sea) could very well lead to lower earnings estimates or tighter policy rates. Ultimately, the fundamental and structural trends that were in place leading into 2026 remain in place.

Todd Asset Management LLC, formerly Todd-Veredus Asset Management LLC began operations on June 1, 1998 as Veredus Asset Management LLC (VAM). Effective May 1, 2009, VAM combined with Todd Investment Advisors, Inc. (TIA). TIA (and its predecessors) was founded in 1967 by Bosworth M. Todd. Upon the combination of VAM and TIA in 2009, Veredus Asset Management LLC changed its name to Todd-Veredus Asset Management LLC (TVAM). On February 28, 2013, after a change in ownership involving some VAM unitholders, TVAM changed its name to Todd Asset Management LLC. The firm continues to offer the same strategies managed by individuals using the process founded under TIA.

The performance information is presented on a trade date basis, both gross and net of management fees, net of transaction costs and includes the reinvestment of all income. Net of fee performance was calculated using the applicable annual management fee schedule of 0.60% applied monthly. Actual investment advisory fees incurred by clients may vary. The currency used to calculate and express performance is U.S. dollars. All cash reserves and equivalents have been included in the performance.

The Composite performance has been compared to the following benchmark. The index is unmanaged, and not available for direct investment; it includes reinvestment of dividends; it does not reflect management fees or transaction costs. The volatility of the index and a client account will not be the same.

MSCI ACWI (net) Index is a float-adjusted market capitalization index that is designed to measure the equity market performance of developed and emerging markets. The net index considers the impact of tax withholdings on dividend income.

MSCI ACWI Value (net) Index is a float-adjusted index of securities exhibiting overall value style characteristics across both developed and emerging markets. The value investment style characteristics for index construction are defined using three variables: book value to price, 12-month forward earnings to price and dividend yield. The net index considers the impact of tax withholdings on dividend income.

Risks - Investments involve varying degrees of risk, and there can be no assurance that this product is suitable or profitable for your investment portfolio. The GIVEI product is designed for long-term investors looking for dividend yield who are willing to accept short-term market price fluctuations. There are general and market risks involved in this product. There is no guarantee that the companies invested in will declare dividends in the future, or that the dividends declared will remain at current levels or increase over time. As a global product, risks of ownership in a foreign security (ADR, or similar securities) include political instability, confiscation of property, reduced legal protection, market liquidity, and adverse changes in currency exchange rates. Investing in emerging market securities can magnify these risks due to their smaller economies. This strategy may result in a portfolio with concentration in economic sectors, as sector diversification is not part of the strategy guidelines. There are times the overall market may not favor value-style investing, and/or stocks with higher dividends, and it is possible the intrinsic value of the underlying stocks may never be realized.

At acceptance, TAM will provide all clients with a copy of our current Form ADV, Part 2A ("Disclosure Brochure"), Form ADV Part 2Bs, which are the Brochure Supplements for each advisory person supporting a particular client, and, if an individual investor, the Form ADV Part 3 (client Relationship Summary or Form CRS).
