Performance Review

International markets started off 2026 largely extending the momentum we saw through most of last year. This abruptly reversed in March as military actions in Iran and the closure of the Strait of Hormuz caused the price of oil (amongst other commodities) to spike well above $100/bbl. Our International IV Opportunity strategy performed well through this drawdown, outperforming the ACWI ex-US in the quarter.

The ongoing conflict in Iran is obviously a wild card that's difficult to assess given the vastly different potential end games. Rather than attempt to predict when/what the conclusion to this Middle Eastern conflict looks like, it more useful to understand the state of the economy going into a geopolitical conflict or energy shock. Generally speaking, economic momentum was building (e.g. Global Manufacturing PMI and GDP estimates were both rising), earnings growth was reaccelerating (e.g. earnings estimates for 2026 remain largely unscathed) and inflationary pressure was easing. The fiscal policy backdrop also remains very supportive in most regions as spending is increasingly directed to infrastructure and security. Together, these dynamics suggest that there may be a lot more resiliency in the global economy to withstand temporary pressures from higher energy/food/commodity prices. "Temporary" is an important distinction as further damage to energy infrastructure in the Middle East or a more prolonged closure of the Strait of Hormuz (or Bab al-Mandab in the Red Sea) could very well lead to lower earnings estimates or tighter policy rates. Ultimately, the fundamental and structural trends that were in place leading into 2026 remain in place. Current geopolitical tensions only further reinforce the various forms of economic nationalism we've highlighted over past few years that have driven activity in various industries within the Industrials, Energy, Materials and Financial sectors. It is also encouraging to see the dollar trading back down to pre-war levels after a brief period of appreciation in the initial weeks of the conflict.

The performance presented represents a Composite of fully discretionary accounts invested primarily in large cap internationally domiciled, US traded equity securities using a rules-based process based on intrinsic value, financial strength, profitability strength, and market acceptance. The objective is to seek capital appreciation.

Todd Asset Management LLC, formerly Todd-Veredus Asset Management LLC began operations on June 1, 1998 as Veredus Asset Management LLC (VAM). Effective May 1, 2009, VAM combined with Todd Investment Advisors, Inc. (TIA). TIA (and its predecessors) was founded in 1967 by Bosworth M. Todd. Upon the combination of VAM and TIA in 2009, Veredus Asset Management LLC changed its name to Todd-Veredus Asset Management LLC (TVAM). On February 28, 2013, after a change in ownership involving some VAM unitholders, TVAM changed its name to Todd Asset Management LLC. The firm continues to offer the same strategies managed by individuals using the process founded under TIA.

The International Intrinsic Value Opportunity Composite contains fully discretionary accounts that use the MSCI ACWI ex-US Index as the benchmark. All fee-paying, fully discretionary portfolios under our management are included in a Composite. Accounts are eligible for inclusion in the Composite at the beginning of the first calendar quarter after the month of initial funding and upon being fully invested.

TAM claims compliance with the Global Investment Performance Standards (GIPS®). The Firm has been independently verified for the periods January 1, 2008 through December 31, 2025. VAM was verified for the period July 1, 1989 through December 31, 2007 by a previous verifier. TIA's compliance with the GIPS® standards has been verified for the period January 1, 1993 through April 30, 2009. The International Intrinsic Value Opportunity Composite has been examined for the periods July 1, 2014 through December 31, 2025. GIPS® is a registered trademark of CFA Institute. The performance information is presented on a trade date basis, both gross and net of management fees, net of transaction costs and foreign withholding taxes, and includes the reinvestment of all income. Net of fee performance was calculated using the applicable annual management fee schedule of 0.80% applied monthly. Actual investment advisory fees incurred by clients may vary. The currency used to calculate and express performance is U.S. dollars. All cash reserves and equivalents have been included in the performance.

The Composite performance has been compared to the following benchmark. The index is unmanaged, and not available for direct investment; it includes reinvestment of dividends; it does not reflect management fees or transaction costs. The volatility of the index and a client account will not be the same

MSCI ACWI ex-U.S. (net) Index is a float-adjusted market capitalization index that is designed to measure the combined equity market performance of developed and emerging market countries excluding the United States. The ACWI ex-U.S. includes both developed and emerging markets. For investors who benchmark their U.S. and international stocks separately, this index provides a way to monitor international exposure apart from U.S. investments. The net index considers the impact of tax withholdings on dividend income.

MSCI ACWI Value (net) Index is a float-adjusted index of securities exhibiting overall value style characteristics across both developed and emerging markets. The value investment style characteristics for index construction are defined using three variables: book value to price, 12-month forward earnings to price and dividend yield.

Risks - Investments involve varying degrees of risk, and there can be no assurance that this product is suitable for your investment portfolio. The International Opportunity product is designed for long-term investors who are willing to accept short-term price fluctuations. This product generally holds 30 securities and is rebalanced every 3 months, thus it is more concentrated and may generate more investment turnover than other products. It is not required to be diversified by sector, and should be considered a more sector concentrated, aggressive application of the price to intrinsic value investment philosophy. There are general and market risks involved in this product, along with the risks of ownership in a foreign security (ADR, or similar securities) including political instability, confiscation of property, reduced legal protection, market liquidity, and adverse changes in currency exchange rates. Investing in emerging market securities can magnify these risks due to their smaller economies. There are times the overall market may not favor value-style investing, and it is possible the intrinsic value of the underlying stocks may never be realized.
